

Live the dream of successful and hassle-free IT projects

Have you heard it's impossible to plan and implement IT projects successfully? Have you been burnt by IT projects that run ludicrously over time and over budget?

A study published in the Harvard Business Review, which analysed 1,471 IT projects, found that the average overrun was 27%, but one in six projects had a cost overrun of 200% on average and a schedule overrun of almost 70%.

Maybe you've started out on an IT project with the best of intentions, but then an unexpected resignation has left a sudden hole in your leadership group, or a change in direction has revealed a gap in skills and resources.

Whatever the cause, Weiser Consulting® has the knowledge and experience to keep your IT projects running smoothly.

Introducing our project management and planning services

With extensive experience in planning and running successful IT projects in a range of industries and government departments, we have the ability to fill your project management gaps – whenever and wherever they occur – quickly and efficiently, saving you money and time.

Weiser Consulting® offer professional project management and planning services, helping you avoid the pitfalls of IT projects. We bring discipline to IT projects, managing deliverables, deadlines, scope and budget. And we keep you informed with regular progress reports on issues, risks, budgets, milestone schedules, changes, testing and defects, encapsulated in a handy traffic light summary.
